BREADFRUIT AGROFORESTRY
Regenerating abundant, resilient, and profitable landscapes

WORKSHOP ON MAUI
Saturday, March 3, 2018
8:30 am – 4:00 pm
Maui Nui Botanical Gardens
• Kahului, Maui •

Space is limited. Advance registration required. $35 per person (Lunch included)

Registration and info
www.breadfruit.info

Expand your knowledge in many areas from planting to maintaining to consuming breadfruit. Growers, homeowners, processors, sellers, chefs/restaurateurs, consumers, educators, policymakers, and others interested in regenerating breadfruit are encouraged to attend.

TOPICS AND PRESENTERS

Working with breadfruit varieties—Dr. Diane Ragone, Breadfruit Institute, NTBG
Regenerative agroforestry with breadfruit—Craig Elevitch, Agroforestry Net & Ho’oulu ka ‘Ulu
Breadfruit tree planting, care, and pruning—Heidi Bornhorst, Pruning for Productivity
Cultural Importance of ‘Ulu & Hawaiian Systems—Hōkūao Pellegrino, Noho‘ana Farm
Organic techniques—Gerry Ross, Kupa’a Farms
Culinary creativity and product innovation—John Cadman, Maui Breadfruit Company

Registration and information: www.breadfruit.info or call 415-766-9662

Co-sponsored by Patagonia Provisions® and the State of Hawaii Department of Agriculture

Presented by the Breadfruit Institute, National Tropical Botanical Garden, and Agroforestry Net